Brand Focus

Ombar

Meet Ombar’s Organic Vegan Oat M’lk Bars, an incredibly delicious and innovative new range of vegan chocolate created to be planet positive. Ombar Oat M’lk Chocolate has less than half the carbon footprint of ‘regular’ milk chocolate and for every bar sold a contribution is made to Fundación Jocotoco’s reforestation of the Chocó rainforest in Ecuador where Ombar sustainably sources its cacao. Ombar also uses ‘naked’ British oats which have less food miles and are creamier than normal oats! Ombar’s Vegan Oat M’lk Bars are available in four delicious flavours: Fruit & Nut; Hazelnut; M'lk; and Salted Caramel flavours.

Zaytoun

Olive oil soap from Nablus or Nabulsi soap is hand-crafted in small batches by a family business in Nablus, a city with a long and rich soap making heritage, using time-honoured traditional methods. Soap from Nablus has long been celebrated for its gentle, moisturising effect. Rich in olive oil, this is a nourishing choice for everyday use, restoring the skin’s natural softness. Traditionally made in households by women who would set aside a portion of each year’s olive harvest in order to make soap for the family, Nabulsi soap is still made by hand to this day. Following a recipe that hasn’t changed much over the years, the soaps contain over 77% olive oil and only a few other natural ingredients that are biodegradable and free from SLS or parabens. Dating back to the 10th century, Nablus boasts one of the oldest olive oil soap making-traditions in the world. The industry was once Palestine’s strongest, and olive oil soap from Nablus was exported throughout the Middle East and Europe with a peak in the early 20th century. It is said that Nablus soap’s reputation reached the shores of the UK and that it was the soap of choice for Queen Elizabeth I. Having once boasted over thirty soap factories, only two remain in Nablus. The Nablus Soap Company was founded in 1972 by the Tbeleh family who have been making soap for over 400 years. To this day, the person who cuts the soap is known as the ‘tubeil’, an association with the family that has evolved over centuries. Choose from Lemon Olive Oil Soap; Rose Olive Oil Soap; Sage Olive Oil Soap; Honey Olive Oil Soap; and the Olive Oil Soap Collection.
